

The heatmap displays a 12x12 matrix. The diagonal elements are red, representing a value of 1.0. The off-diagonal elements are colored in shades of orange and purple, representing values between 0.0 and 0.5. The matrix is symmetric, with the same color pattern appearing above and below the diagonal.

