

The heatmap displays a 12x12 matrix. The diagonal elements are red, representing a value of 1.0. The off-diagonal elements are colored in shades of purple and blue, representing values between 0.0 and 0.5. The matrix is symmetric, with the same color pattern mirrored across the diagonal.

